The "/dev" directory

- Contains files representing every single device in a UNIX/Linux system
- To write to a device, simply have your application write to the relevant file in /dev